San Diego - Saturday, September 21, 2019, a We the People Solidarity

March will take place at 1600 Pacific Hwy. San Diego, Ca. 92101 at the County Administration Center at 10:00 am. This peaceful assembly is one of numerous We The People Solidarity Marches being held in more than 60 cities. More than 100,000 people are expected to attend the We The People March being held in Washington, D.C. on Saturday, September 21st to demonstrate that the current status quo is a threat to our democracy and values.

The national We the People March is a grassroots effort spearheaded by activist and author

Amy Siskind, president of The New Agenda, and co-sponsored by concerned citizens and activists from across the U.S. "So many of us worked for two years ahead of midterms, to take a majority and put a check in place and finally have accountability. That hasn't happened. So many Americans are concerned with losing our democracy and values. We are marching to be seen and heard, and to remind our elected officials that they work for us!" said Amy Siskind. In addition to planning the D.C. event, local activists have organized solidarity marches across the nation - and the globe - with more marches being added weekly.

"During Viet Nam and Watergate, we marched, and it changed policy and history. Hong Kong just protested and got a heinous law revoked. Join the #WeThePeopleMarch on September 21, 2019 in DC. Let your voice be heard," said Watergate prosecutor Jill Wine-Banks.

To learn more about the solidarity marches, visit <https://www.wethepeoplesmarch2019.org/> The march is designed to highlight issues that a majority of Americans are deeply concerned about such as gun control, kids in cages, the environment, corruption, kleptocracy and more. The We the People March will be a day of equity and inclusion that reflects our commitment to peaceful assembly and achieves our mission. For more information about the marches visit <https://www.wethepeoplesmarch2019.org/solidarity-marches/>
