

John Zimmer's Advice on Following Your Passion

John Zimmer, a 21-year-old entrepreneur, has followed his passion for filming, resulting in the launch of his four successful start-up businesses.

GREENWICH, CT, UNITED STATES, September 25, 2019 / EINPresswire.com/ -- Twenty-one-year-old entrepreneur, John Zimmer, owns four start-up businesses. As an eager entrepreneur, he has big plans for the future of his parent company, Labyrinth 35X and its subsidiaries. But before Zimmer was running his businesses in two different states, he was a young man without a clear direction. It wasn't until he went on a mission trip with his church that he realized his passion for filming.

"It's not always clear to someone what their passion should be," said John Zimmer. "But it is important to keep trying different things. Get out there and experiment. Sometimes what you love is right under your nose."

Once John Zimmer started following his passion, everything fell into place. His communications companies have led to him working NY Fashion Week and filming with Guinness Book of World Records. John also vlogs every day on YouTube, developing his personal brand while having fun.

"You just have to get out there and do it, regardless of fear," said Zimmer. "You have to start somewhere, even if that somewhere is with no experience at all. If you're excited about it, then you're on the right track. Before you know it, you're launching yourself out of bed every morning ready to start your day doing what you love."

There are a few ways to discover one's inner passion but John Zimmer has one simple question to ask yourself to get the ball rolling: "What do I actually like to do? Like really?"

Here's how John explains it.

"Think back to when you're a child. Did you take apart your toys and put them back again or conduct mini-productions with your stuffed animals? What about now? Make a list of activities you know, or at least think, you know you like to do. Additionally, look for those peak moments that you remember as fun.

Don't be afraid to think outside the box and dream big. Maybe you secretly like the idea of leading people, and openly love the idea of drinking craft beer and playing video games. Guess what? That sounds like a pretty cool bar concept and you get to be the business leader you've always wanted to be.

Once you have your list you can narrow down your favorites and research ways to monetize your gifts."

"There are limitless opportunities out there," said John Zimmer. "If you follow your calling, there is bound to be someone that can benefit from it."
