Segmentation:

The global contract furniture market can be segmented based on type of product, application, and geographical region.

Contract furniture can be of the following types:

- Bathroom Furniture
- Bedroom Furniture and Mattresses
- Kitchen Furniture
- Lighting Fixtures
- Office Furniture
- Outdoor Furniture
- Tables and Chairs
- Upholstered Furniture
- Others

On the basis of application, the contract furniture market has been split into primarily corporate and government offices, public areas such as parks and gardens, retail stores, healthcare, hospitality, education, and others. It has been seen that the education segment is witnessing rapid growth as there is a growing demand for modern and sleek furniture in educational institutions. The concept of smart furniture is also catching on as it offers the ease of operating remotely via wireless technology which is installed using applications on the user's smart devices. Hence, the demand for smart furniture is likely to further drive the demand for contract furniture across the world, especially in Europe.

Regional Analysis:

North America, South America, Europe, Asia-Pacific, and the Middle East and Africa are the major regions for the contract furniture market across the world. Europe is one of the market leaders in terms of revenue in the contract furniture market. Industry experts predict that the contract furniture market in Europe will grow at a CAGR of around 6% during the period 2019-2023. The UK is also expected to register the highest incremental growth in this market during the forecast period.
