

Registration now open for SMI's Maritime Reconnaissance and Surveillance Technology conference in Rome, Italy

SMi Reports: Registration opens for Maritime Reconnaissance and Surveillance Technology 2020 in Rome, Italy

ROME, ITALY, October 7, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SMI is proud to present the 5th annual Maritime Reconnaissance and Surveillance Technology conference, taking place on 5th – 6th February 2020 in Rome, Italy. As the only Maritime ISR meeting in Italy with a specific focus on Maritime Space Domain Awareness, the conference will bring together the widest range of expert nations ever to discuss key operational and technological challenges facing navies and other maritime organisations, as they resolve to monitor the sea and protect their borders.

As varied threats in the Mediterranean Sea continue to proliferate, the conference will explore the need to advance all-encompassing reconnaissance and surveillance platforms to cover larger areas of ocean is greater than ever.

Platforms and topics discussed include: Space based ISR, Airborne Platforms & Operations, C4ISTAR, Unmanned Maritime Systems, Hydrographic platforms and more.

This year, the conference has an increased focus on space based maritime reconnaissance and the addition of the relation between the Littoral and Maritime Domains and ISR capabilities that occur. The aim is to assist the advancement and engagement of Naval practitioners and Programme Managers through briefings, panel sessions and focused discussion groups on topics including Unmanned ISR platforms, Space-based Maritime Reconnaissance, Littoral-Maritime ISR capabilities and Fleet Air Arm ISR capabilities.

For those interested in attending, there is an early bird saving of £400 for bookings made by October 31st. Register at www.maritime-recon.com/einPR1
