Hannon Coach currently operates an express service between Belfast and Glasgow which involves an intermodal ferry connection and seamless one-stop check-in. “Hannon’s multi-modal model aligns well with the Betterez vision of powering seamless connections among multiple bus and coach operators and other modes of travel,” adds Mike.

Hannon Coach also has ambitious plans to roll out a network of intercity express services across Northern Ireland. Betterez will provide the ticketing platform to support fully integrated ticketing across Hannon’s planned network.

“Our experience in the commercial transport industry and our partnerships with key industry bodies, ferry operators and other transport organizations allow us to provide a level of professionalism and reliability that few other coach operators in the region can match,” says Owen McLaughlin, Group Marketing Manager. “We applied this high standard when modernizing our reservation system, and ultimately selected Betterez because of their experience in enhancing customer experiences through digitalization, their continuous focus on developing innovative features, and we needed a solution that would improve efficiencies in marketing and day-to-day operations.”

With a mission to drive digital innovation in the bus and coach industry and thus contribute to smarter ground travel across the globe, Betterez offers its customers an integrated platform for all sales channels, numerous products such as booklets and passes, real time capacity management, advanced seat maps, bus side scanning, loyalty program, dynamic pricing, and much more.
