

Girls PIAA Basketball Kicks Off at EEACS in Allentown

Executive Education Academy Charter School in Allentown has officially announced a varsity girls basketball team.

ALLENTOWN, PENNSYLVANIA, UNITED STATES, October 15, 2019 / EINPresswire.com/ -- A year after Executive Education Academy Charter School in Allentown was PIAA certified, a new sports team is finding a home at the school. Varsity girls basketball will kick off during the 2019-2020 academic year.

Executive Education Charter School in Allentown will welcome a girls basketball team.

Over 75 girls in grades 5 through 12 signed up to play basketball. Twenty-five high school girls were chosen for the school's first varsity team.

"We can't wait to see our students take the court and have a successful season," says Robert Lysek, founder and CEO of the Allentown charter school.

The girls team will play in the school's new 16,000 square-foot, 1,600 seat gymnasium against other public, private, and charter schools.

The boys basketball team was the first sports team at the school. They had a successful season in 2018-2019 and even won a Basketball District Title. Other sports at the school include girls volleyball, baseball, softball, and wrestling.
