

Tarps Now® Reduces Negative Health Impacts with Mesh Tarp Offerings

Mesh Tarps Delivers Significant Protection from Over-Exposure to Wind and Sunlight Exposure

ST. JOSEPH, MICHIGAN, UNITED STATES, October 15, 2019

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Tarps Now® today announced a new and extended line up of specialty Mesh Tarps engineered to help reduce or eliminate exposure to intense windburn and other forms of ultraviolet radiation that are commonly linked to causing skin cancer and other harmful impacts in both humans and animals.

To meet the need for protective coverings around homes, animal habitats and other outdoor structures, the company is well known as the online leader in fabricating custom tarp coverings, as well as an extended line up of stock mesh tarps featuring a wide range of exposure ratings, weights, fabric grades and colors engineered to provide high levels of protection from intense sunlight, wind and other forces of nature. This line up also includes privacy windscreens that offer varying levels of both UV protection and wind resistance, depending on the selected material and design.

Applications for these new lines of Mesh Tarps extend to uses in and around homes, such as patios, decks, thresholds, gazebos, pools, picnic areas, barns, kennels and other outdoor recreational areas. Conversely, many businesses are adopting the use of Mesh Shade Tarps to protect employees who work in areas where prolonged exposure to the elements exists such as in agricultural processing areas, animal feedlot areas, warehousing dock areas, shipping and receiving areas, and many other applications.
