ACC News Talk Radio Spotlights Aaron Daviau of Wholeness Healings

Billings, Montana – Life is too short. While obstacles come and go, far too often, we allow fear to take over and we succumb to these challenges, never fully embracing the life that we were meant to live. The facts... you're not alone and it's never too late. With over a decade of experience, Life, Health Coach and Reiki Master Aaron Daviau has assisted countless women and families on the path to genuine empowerment.

Like many others, Aaron battled issues with self-esteem from an early age. Unafraid to seek the help of another, she worked with a coach to find the cause of the issue and endured her own transformational process to overcome. In addition, Aaron cites her son as a truly vital inspiration towards her growth and success.

With an affinity towards helping others, Aaron set out to earn certifications in Life and Health Coaching to eventually form Wholeness Healings. Committed to the work she truly loves, Aaron's primary focus is assisting women suffering from a multitude of issues including physical, mental and emotional health.

News of Aaron's abilities have traveled wide and far as word of mouth has fueled her growing client base. Focused on helping everyone from anywhere, Aaron handles sessions through video conferencing, Skype, phone and in person. With a variety of tools and modalities in her repertoire, Aaron practices Reiki, meditation, intuition, nutrition, homeopathic methods and breathing exercises in her sessional work.

In addition to the programs that Aaron offers in her sessional work, she hosts different events for adults and children in the Billings area. On October 19th, she will be holding an event for adults and families at the Shrine Auditorium in Billings, MT. Meditation groups for children are typically held on Fridays at 6:00 pm and adults on Saturdays at 10:15 am at Barjon Books in Billings.

"I go all in with my clients to continue to grow. I teach people how to hone in on their own gift to get them in tune with themselves. At any stage of life, you can learn to be your best self," exclaims Daviau.
