“My dream for every woman is to look in the mirror and say, 'Damn, I look good!' and move throughout her day boldly confident whether it's a stay at home mom, a top executive, or the first woman president.” – Demechi Lipke, Silver Mane Consulting Founder/Owner. This is the premise behind Silver Mane Consulting. Demechi has seen first-hand the powerful effects of how a perfectly styled outfit can unbelievably boost a woman's confidence level.

Silver Mane Consulting is teaming up with Hue & Stripe to bring their clients virtual closets, lookbooks, and recommendation finds. This platform will enable Demechi to quickly find and share clothing recommendations that could be a good fit, and we believe the direct human communication will bring the greatest satisfaction to our clients with the experience and the clothing they purchase.

Once the client subscribes to 1 of 3 plans (Bronze Starter, Silver Standard, and Gold VIP), they will connect with Demechi via Zoom or Skype to discuss goals, style, body shape, budget, and a tour of their existing closet. Demechi will pre-source the entire web to find the client perfect clothing and accessories based on their discussion. She will then create a lookbook to share with the client via text/email. The client is free to purchase what she likes and the items ship directly from the retailer. Demechi will integrate the newly purchased items in with the clients existing wardrobe in a lookbook to give them multiple outfits options and have them looking fashionably fresh as well as perfectly put together. The monthly subscription plans are phenomenal for the busy women needing style solutions on the go.
