

Ty Bollinger Receives Honorary Doctorate from World Organization of Natural Medicine

NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE, UNITED STATES, October 30, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Dr. Sheila McKenzie, co-founder of the World Organization of Natural Medicine, presented an honorary doctorate to Ty Bollinger at the WONM conference in Toronto on October 27, 2019.

Bollinger, a Tennessee-based author and film producer, is founder of The Truth About Cancer® organization, along with his wife, Charlene. After losing several family members to cancer (including Ty's mother and father), they refused to accept the notion that chemotherapy, radiation, and surgery were the most effective treatments available for cancer patients.

They began a quest to learn all they possibly could about natural cancer treatments and the medical industry. What they uncovered was shocking. There is ample evidence to support the allegation that the "war on cancer" is largely a fraud and that multinational pharmaceutical companies are "running the show." Together, they have made it their mission to educate the world about the multitude of natural and integrative treatment options available for cancer patients.

I am truly humbled and can't tell you how much it means to be recognized and given this honorary degree.”

After presenting the honorary degree, Dr. McKenzie also presented Bollinger with an “Illuminated Diploma of Honor” award for his contributions to the betterment of humanity and his efforts to educate the world about health freedom. Upon receipt of this prestigious award, Bollinger said “I accept this award on behalf of my wife, Charlene, and my children. It is our family mission to spread the truth to the world. I am again, truly humbled.”
