

WD-HAN Releases New Single “Summertime Star Sign”

WD-HAN releases new single “Summertime Star Sign”, a message to those who have been loved and lost and what could have been said before it was too late.

CLEARWATER, FL, UNITED STATES, November 1, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Tampa Bay natives WD-HAN embrace a new era with the release of their latest single “Summertime Star Sign”, a message from the band to those who have been loved and lost and what could have been said before it was too late.

Vocalist Spencer Barnes states about the track:

“Summertime Star Sign” was written in the wake of losing a close friend to cancer, and missing an opportunity to see this person one last time. The finality of that realization was pretty hard-hitting, and I wanted to write a song that was the message I wish I'd been able to give him before he was gone. Obviously it's a sad topic, but it was important that the song be a message of hope, of something more after the body is gone. I hope the song means something to anyone else who's been through the fight or lost someone - bringing them a little joy, a little catharsis with music would be the best thing I can imagine, and a great honor to the friend I lost.

In connection with the meaning of “Summertime Star Sign”, WD-HAN is partnering with local non profit Women With Purpose, an organization committed to helping families currently fighting breast cancer, providing non-medical financial assistance. In the name of their current campaign, #GiveWhereYouLive, WD-HAN will be donating a percentage of merchandise revenue throughout November to the organization.
