

Papa's Select, Big Sur Extracts Offer Solution To Vaping Crises At WEEDCon

Doors Guitarist Robby Krieger to Play WEEDCon B2B expo with Special Guests

HOLLYWOOD, CA, USA, November 5, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- WPI - With the cannabis industry growing at 30-50% annually, the current vaping crises is threatening to tarnish an otherwise bright future for cannabis. The vaping crisis, still a mystery, has coincided with the rise of illegal vapes with vitamin E and other additives, vape flavorings, tobacco products and cheap foreign manufacturing. With the goal of smoking less and ingesting a stronger quantity more quickly, smoking a cannabis extract is like doing a shot instead of drinking a beer. Just like with alcohol, there are several types of cannabis extracts.

For those who wish to enjoy concentrates, without vaping, we have extracts made with solvents and extracts made without solvents, or concentrates. On the extracts side, Big Sur Extracts makes an extract called "Sun Drops" with a honey like texture and a delightful taste. Kaizen makes Mandarin Cookies (which was so pure it looked like a 1 carat diamond) and Forbidden Bunnies (pure THC crystals) both live resin extracts measuring 81% THC that are extremely pure and potent.

On the concentrate side (solventless extracts with no residual solvents), Papa's Select makes a multi-award winning concentrate called Papaya Live Rosin which is a concentrate from fresh frozen cannabis flowers. Papa's Select also makes an ice water hash called Peanut Butter Breath that is also made without the use of solvents and is a must try in the concentrate realm.

Competitions like the WEEDCon Cup are the reference point for the discerning consumer looking for insight as to which of the myriad of products to try. WEEDCon Wonderland and the WEEDCon Buyers Cup is judged by professionals in the cannabis industry and is considered the standard for cannabis cups.
