

Prince Dematra Leads Declaration of Nusantara Peace Day with Kings and Sultans in Pura Hulundanu, Songan, Bali.

SONGAN, BALI, INDONESIA, November 11, 2019 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Prince Dr. Damien Dematra, founder and director of the International Festival Group for Peace, Culture, and Humanity declared the Nusantara Peace Day in Pura Hulundanu, Songan, Kintamani, Bali recently.

This is the second declaration of Nusantara Peace Day. The declaration was attended by thousands of people from all over Indonesia. With Kings and Queens and Sultans of Indonesia attended and declared the peace at the event.

Prince Damien Dematra explained, to declare the Nusantara Peace Day in Bali, which is famous for its traditional yet tolerant value, is an amazing experience in which I hope could inspire more people to unite and believe in living in peace and harmony.

Before this, the declaration had took place on September 3rd in Jogjakarta, worked together with MATRA, the council of Nusantara Culture, with a mission to achieve peace mission in the Nusantara. This declaration is expected to be the beginning of a mission to bring peace in the Nusantara region. Nusantara Peace Day will begin to celebrated next year and beyond.

Regarding the reason for September 3rd to be determined as Nusantara Peace Day, he answered, the reason for this that it has to be related with the World Peace Day which was declared by the United Nations, so that the Nusantara Peace Day Celebration and World Peace Day can be carried out in synergy.

Pura Hulundanu is closely affiliated with the Goddess of Danu which is the Goddess of water and fertility. She is one of two supreme deities in the Balinese tradition. The Dewi Danu statue, which was built near temple where the declaration was held at Lake Batur, Songan Village, Kintamani District, Bangli, was designated as the largest and highest Dewi Danu Statue in Indonesia by the
