DALLAS, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, November 19, 2019 / EINPresswire.com/ -- Richard Harmer, along with other North Texas artists, will be profiled for the Dallas Mavericks “Art + Basketball City Edition Launch Night,” November 26, 2019 from 4:00 pm CT – 7:15 pm CT in Victory Plaza at the American Airlines Center located at 2500 Victory Avenue Dallas, TX 75219

“I’m honored to be featured alongside some incredible artists for the Art + Basketball event by the Mavericks. The Mavericks are more than an NBA basketball team, they do a tremendous amount of work in our local community. I’m proud to partner with them any way I can.”

Each time communications consultant and local artist Richard Harmer does a painting, he does it with a purpose. Every painting is significant in three ways, and to him they are the most important part of why he paints. “Each painting has a message within the art, staples in the actual painting and a portion of each sold painting goes to a charity I partner with,” Richard explains. “I love painting, but the thought of people looking at art that’s meaningful fills a void painting alone can’t fill. The staples represent our imperfections and our brokenness as people. About 5 years ago I tore through a painting and well, just went with it. I had to staple it back together and just started doing that ever since. The process I use to create the art can be just as beautiful as the final creation, this includes any and all imperfections.”

More than half of all his art is sold exclusively through charitable auctions. His latest series titled “Messages” will be on display for the Art + Basketball event. FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC!
