The team of dedicated professionals participates in every stage of the real estate projects, including designing the initial concepts, selection of decorative items and furniture, preparation of construction documents, city applications, budgeting, and project coordination. The proper combination of costly materials in interior and exterior helps to achieve the perfect balance of aesthetics, practicality, and comfort. This is the way the house turns into a home.

"We are honored to win the Luxury Lifestyles Awards for the second time. This award from the respected experts of LLA is an important recognition of our innovative approach to creating unique designs for our clients," – says Ahmed Gabr, founder and architectural engineer of GAF Design Studio.
