PFS East Coast 2020

Pre-Filled Syringes 2020 will provide attendees with insight into the changing global market and emerging challenges within the market in a variety of expert presentations. Additionally, the conference will offer peer-to-peer networking opportunities, with Global Product Managers, Senior PFS Engineers, Device Testing Managers and many others.

Attendees will have the opportunity to:

- Explore how digital connectivity is being used in the PFS industry
- Gain insights into control strategies for DDC developments
- Hear key regulatory updates from the FDA and industry experts
- Understand how patient centricity is being incorporated into device development

This year's event will also offer a workshop day on 29th April. The workshop day will feature three interactive sessions led by industry leaders from AstraZeneca, ZwickRoell and Core Human Factors, Inc.
