Commitment to Lifelong Health for Animals

As the owner of several animals herself, Dr. Michelle Casey brings that love and commitment to each family pet in her practice. An avid reader and writer, Dr. Casey enjoys playing outdoors with her husband, three children and their cherished pets: a carrot-loving guinea pig named Izzy B. Pig, a Pacman frog Cody, Murphy the golden retriever, and a rescued box turtle named Smidge. With her extensive experience caring for all types of pets, Dr. Casey is always looking for ways to proactively provide high-quality preventative medicine for her furry or feathered patients.

An Early Calling for Dr. Casey

While some people may not know what they want to do until they are much older, Dr. Casey realized at a very young age that she wanted to provide care to animals and their caretakers. Her sincere connection with both pets and their owners began when she was in the third grade and was able to return a missing pet to its owner. Seeing the bond that grew between the two encouraged her to eventually move into veterinary medicine, after an early internship with SeaWorld veterinarians where she learned a great deal about marine mammals.

Pets become a part of your family, and the team at Sunset Veterinary Clinic understands how special patients are to their families. When you need the very best in veterinary medicine in Edmonds, come see Dr. Casey and the team at Sunset Veterinary Clinic!
