Lincoln Project Statement on Trump's Impeachment

Today Marks the Beginning of the End of Donald Trump's Presidency

Today, for only the third time in our nation's history, an American president, Donald Trump, was impeached. This constitutional condemnation of the occupant in the highest office of our nation blares from the galley of the people's House, echoes through our country's institutions, and is heard throughout our communities. Today, we can see the beginning of the end of Trumpism.

The constitutional burden of holding a trial and determining President Trump's fitness now falls to the United States Senate. We expect each senator, regardless of party, to defend the American Constitution and to put country over partisanship. While we do not know whether the US Senate will remove President Trump, the Lincoln Project will be working every day between now and next November to ensure the defeat of Trumpism at the ballot box.

Trumpism will not survive when it is flanked by honorable men and women who believe that our country, our institutions, and our people, are more important than one man's unbridled, unchecked, and unrestrained ambition.

Our nation is suffering from self-inflicted wounds that will fester uncontrollably until Donald Trump and Trumpism are defeated. This is our mission and our duty.
