LONDON, GREATER LONDON, UK, January 2, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The global remote patient monitoring devices and equipment market is expected to grow to $2.7 billion at a rate of about 15.8% through 2022. The rising number of patients with chronic diseases, increasing need for monitoring, and projected shortfall in the number of nurses in the near future increases the growth of remote patient monitoring devices and equipment. However, hospitals and healthcare professionals resisting the adoption of remote patient monitoring systems are limiting the market.

The remote patient monitoring devices and equipment market consists of sales of remote patient monitoring devices and equipment and related services. Remote patient monitoring devices and equipment allow a patient to use a mobile medical device for undergoing a routine test and send the test data to a healthcare expert in real-time.
