

NATO to Present on the NATO Airworthiness Policy at Defence Aviation Safety 2020

Richard Duriez, Airworthiness Manager, Aerospace Capabilities, NATO, will be presenting at the Defence Aviation Safety conference next April

LONDON, LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, January 6, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Defence Aviation Safety, which will return to London on the 23rd and 24th of April 2020, will bring together defence experts from government and industry, as well as senior military leaders, to discuss critical safety topics within the military aviation domain. As the only event of its kind, Defence Aviation Safety is a must-attend event for all those within the industry.

With this in mind, SMi Group are delighted to announce that Richard Duriez, Airworthiness Manager, Aerospace Capabilities, Defence Investment Division, International Staff, NATO, will be presenting "Implementing the NATO Airworthiness Policy (NAWP)," which will cover:

- Presentation of the NAWP
- Implementation of the NAWP
- NATO Recognition Process (NRP)
- Action Plan: Assessment of Airworthiness Authorities
- Return of Experience
- Conclusion

This will be one of many briefings from experts within the industry; the conference aims to highlight the enhancement of military capability through improved safety standards, certification and data management.

Other key speakers include:

- Air Commodore Jason Aigus, Director General - Defence Aviation Safety Authority, Royal Australian Air Force
- Air Commodore Mark Jeffery, Head of RAF Safety Centre, Royal Air Force
- Air Vice Marshal Harvey Smyth, Air Officer Commanding, No. 1 Group, Royal Air Force
