PITTSBURGH, PA, UNITED STATES, January 6, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- An international bishop who has traveled the world spreading the word and love of God, Bishop Tracie Williams Dickey knows a thing or two about the value of mission trips. Known as the "Voice With a Vision," Bishop Tracie Williams Dickey is renowned in Pittsburgh and beyond for her thought-provoking ministries which inspire and empower listeners from all walks of life. Here, the esteemed leader, teacher, and mentor explains three prominent reasons to consider embarking on a short-term mission trip.

3 Benefits of Short-Term Mission Trips

1. Broadening Perspectives

Teens today have the advantage of the World Wide Web which allows them to connect with and learn about people from all corners of the globe. However, reading news stories, seeing Instagram posts, or watching documentaries and YouTube videos is not at all the same as an in-person experience. When people step outside of their comfort zone to walk a mile in another person's shoes, it broadens their perspective and enhances their world view. This is particularly useful for teens who may be wrapped up in their daily lives and not recognize the enormity of the world and its vast diversity.

2. Empowerment

Mission trips empower people to do God's work on earth, Bishop Tracie Williams Dickey said. In addition to broadening horizons, mission trips can improve missionaries' confidence in their ability to make a difference in the world. It can also help improve their sense of ownership and initiative in doing good deeds and helping others. Bishop Tracie Williams Dickey said many missionaries are inspired and enlightened through service.

3. Reinforces Faith

Mission trips can reinforce faith in a few ways. For one, missions provide an opportunity to connect with fellow Christians who share your beliefs, with whom you can have thoughtful discussions on God and His ways and teachings. Furthermore, mission trips provide an opportunity to see how God's teachings can change lives. And finally, immersed in environments where life may be significantly more challenging than what you're accustomed to, you may have the opportunity to witness a miracle or example of God's light in the darkest places.
