

Damage in Puerto Rico Calls for Assistance - Expedition Communications Extends Waived Installation Fees Island-Wide

Earthquakes in Puerto Rico have caused significant internet outages. Expedition Communication is helping businesses by offering assistance on installation fees.

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO, UNITED STATES, January 8, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The second larger earthquake and subsequent aftershocks that rocked Puerto Rico early on January 7th, have triggered a need for island-wide assistance from Expedition Communications. For the next 60 days, businesses experiencing outages or delays from the earthquakes can have installation fees waived.

Satellite internet isn't dependent on terrestrial networks, like fiber, cellular or microwave, so we can reconnect critical information and communications systems faster than conventional networks.”

Jose Abril, Director of Sales, Expedition Communications

Companies shouldn't let communications downtime further affect their bottom-line. Business decision-makers feeling the negative effects of long internet outages are urged to call the region's local team toll-free at 1-877-410-8101 for a free assessment and time estimate to have service restored.

“Since satellite internet is not dependent on terrestrial networks, like fiber, cellular or microwave, our systems can reconnect critical information and communications systems faster than conventional networks,” stated Jose Abril, Director of Sales, Expedition Communications. He continued to share that, “We are committed to helping businesses when they need it most, like now.”

Businesses experiencing outages or delays can have their situation accessed free of charge and explore back-up or primary service solutions with waived installation fees. A local representative can share all details and help get businesses reconnected.

For more information, people are urged to call the local team toll-free at 1-877-410-8101 or visit www.expeditioncommunications.com/business-internet/ to learn more and submit a request form.
