SMi Reports: The 6th annual Future Armoured Vehicles Central and Eastern Europe Conference to return on 18th-19th May 2020 in Prague, Czech Republic

PRAGUE, CZECH REPUBLIC, January 9, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- SMi Group is delighted to announce the return of Future Armoured Vehicles Central and Eastern Europe 2020, commencing on 18th and 19th May in Prague, Czech Republic for its 6th year running.

With regional nations overhauling their legacy equipment to bring their combat vehicles in line with current allied capabilities, Future Armoured Vehicles CEE 2020 will provide a critical insight into what requirements are being pursued by regional armed forces, reinforcing interoperability and cooperation.

For interested parties, an early bird discount of £400 for bookings made by 31st January is available online at <http://www.futurearmouredvehicles.com/EINPR1>

Key focuses for 2020 include:

1. Developing the Czech Armed Forces as they outline their IFV procurement plans (choosing between the CV90, ASCOD or LYNX) in a bid to modernise their land forces by 2026.
2. Main battle tank systems evolution – extending the capability of European ground manoeuvre.
3. Leveraging technological solutions to drive interoperability.
4. Developing ground force doctrine to adapt and overcome adversary threats.

Key speakers include:

- Lieutenant General Gabor Borondi, Deputy Commander, Hungarian Defence Forces
- Brigadier General Dariusz Parylak, DCOM 11 Armoured Cavalry Brigade, Polish Land Forces
- Major General Norbert Huber, Director Armament and Procurement, Austrian MoD
- Major General Gary Brito, Commanding General Maneuver Center of Excellence, US Army
- Colonel Zdenek Mikula, Deputy Commander 7th Mechanised Brigade, Czech Armed Forces
- Colonel Jan Drozd, Dean of the University of Defence Brno, Czech Armed Forces
