

Registration opens for the 4th Annual Unmanned Maritime Systems Technology Conference in London

SMi Group reports: Registration is now open for the upcoming Unmanned Maritime Systems Technology (UMST) Conference in London, this May

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, January 14, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Unmanned systems are becoming an increasingly essential part of the world's fleets as modern navies seek new ways to complete dangerous tasks faster, easier, and with fewer sailors and marines in harm's way.

For this reason, SMi Group are pleased to host UMST 2020, which will provide a crucial forum for the discussion of current and future projects and programmes delivering unmanned and autonomous technology for the naval unmanned systems community.

The brochure with the full agenda to be released soon, interested parties can request a copy on the event website at <http://www.umsconference.com/einpr1>
