Through this series of workshops, Simerjeet Singh aims to answer questions about a variety of topics posed by students and youth in educational institutions. Majorly a student-driven exercise, #CoachOnCampus starts with a 20 minute kick-off session by Simerjeet and then gets into the Q&A format.

I want to offer our youth the comfort of talking to a coach and mentor, to find answers to questions that constantly bother them.”

DAVIET students' queries ranged from topics like “why youngsters move abroad” to “how to handle criticism as a leader” to “how to encourage youth to choose politics as a profession” and other subjects that impact their lives.

Dr Manoj Kumar, Principal of DAVIET, Jalandhar, and an eminent speaker-influencer himself, shared, “This was not just a talk, but a great value add for our young students, who got an opportunity for candid expression of thoughts, queries and doubts about life, career and other important subjects.” Like DAVIET, a number of schools, universities and campuses have collaborated with Simerjeet Singh as part of this program and students are benefiting greatly from the format.

Simerjeet expressed his intention of giving back to the community through these workshops. “I want to offer our youth the comfort of talking to a coach and mentor, to find answers to questions that constantly bother them.
