MODESTO, CA, UNITED STATES, January 29, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Denise Gibbs of Modesto, CA wins the Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award (MBNQA) for her dedication to providing seniors with adequate healthcare.

The Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award an award established by the U.S. Congress in 1987 to raise awareness of quality management and recognize U.S. companies that have implemented successful quality management systems. The award is the nation's highest presidential honor for performance excellence.

"It was an honor to win the MBNQA," said Gibbs. "I take pride in helping people in underserved populations."

Denise Gibbs is a social worker and human resources professional for over 30 years. Social work focuses on helping individuals, families, groups of people, and entire communities enhance their individual and collective well-being. It aims helps thousands of people develop skills and abilities to resolve their own problems and enhance their lives.

Denise Gibbs of Modesto has helped a countless number of people better their lives all from underserved populations including low-income families, seniors, victims of domestic violence, and those incarcerated for non-violent crimes. Gibbs has a Bachelor's of Arts in Social Work from Chico State University, a Human Resources Certificate from the University of the Pacific, and is licensed in Residential Care Facilities for the Elderly, Community Care.

"Older adults are often victims of our impersonal healthcare system," said Gibbs. "Unreliable financial incentives, social support, and assistance often discourages seniors from getting the support they need. Can this be fixed? Yes! We have to first shift the culture of facility-based treatment and aim to provide social care that helps provide a better life for seniors living with chronic health issues. My wish is to provide a better life to all seniors and fight for policies that help give them the opportunities to do so."
