Molds are part of the natural environment, existing indoor and outdoor. But mold problems can develop in Poway homes when mold grows on surfaces that are damp or wet. If your home smells moldy but you cannot see the mold source, you might need a mold inspection to locate hidden mold. In addition, you might want a mold inspection if your Poway home had water damage or if you or your tenants are experiencing health problems. Mold could be hidden in many possible places.

Poway residents may also want mold inspections and testing performed so they can have peace of mind that their home does not have a mold problem in the indoor environment. EZ Mold Inspections can help them find out if they need to be concerned about potential mold problems inside the building.
