

Artifex Software and Serendipity Software donate $120,000 for Australian Fire Relief Efforts

NOVATO, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, February 4, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- In a joint statement released today, Artifex Software, Inc. (US) and Serendipity Software (Australia) have announced their mutual support for the recovery efforts caused by the devastating wildfires in Australia. We have extended our long business relationship to include a $120,000 donation to the Australian Red Cross in support of their disaster relief and recovery efforts for those affected by the fires.

It is difficult to see the extent of the destruction and loss of life caused by these fires. We feel every dollar counts and are proud to partner with Serendipity to do our part.”

Miles Jones, President of Artifex Software, Inc.

Donations to the Australian Red Cross help fund emergency grants to people who have lost their homes or whose homes are uninhabitable, support for people at evacuation centers, recovery programs and emergency assistance in communities affected by the wildfires.

Since October, more than 18 million acres have burned across Australia. New South Wales being hit the hardest. It is our hope that our donations will help support those impacted by the massive fires

“Our hearts go out to the thousands of affected families and emergency personnel fighting the fires and risking their lives each day. It is difficult to see the extent of the destruction and loss of life caused by these fires. We feel every dollar counts and are proud to partner with Serendipity to do our part.” Said Miles Jones, President of Artifex Software.

“Being based in Sydney, the pall of smoke that often covers our beautiful city is a sobering reminder of the bushfire catastrophe still unfolding across our country. The fires have been devastating for the environment, wildlife and communities on an unprecedented scale. We are extremely grateful to all emergency personnel and volunteers, who support and protect our affected communities, and hope our donation can continue to assist those in need.” Said Peter Skarpetis, CEO of Serendipity Software.
