Synapse will host more than 300 speakers and a powerful platform for industry experts sharing experiences and inspiration to their audiences. The "Healthcare Town Hall: A Community Discussion on Data and Population Health" panel will consist health care experts and practitioners, tech entrepreneurs, payers, investors, and government lobbyists. The goal of this session is to learn how data is being utilized within organizations and better understand how data is impacting population health as a whole.

Dr. Mehra is a leading national healthcare expert on the topic of emotional well-being for all ages. Dr. Mehra was invited to speak on the Health Care Town Hall panel by BeniComp, a health tech company and proud sponsor of the Synapse Summit. Kieran Fitzgerald Pittman, Director of Strategic Growth and Product Development at BeniComp, selected Dr. Mehra to speak on this health care panel to add his valuable health care perspective and share his experiences as a performance physician. Dr. Mehra will join fellow panelist Dennis Hartin, CEO of Hartin Dynamics. Mr. Hartin is a proven national thought leader in employer health plan design.

"I am honored to be selected on this panel and speak alongside BeniComp and the other industry leaders" said Dr. Rahul Mehra, CEO of National Center for Performance Health. "I look forward to joining these panelists and discuss navigating the challenging and evolving landscape of the health care industry and the critical changes that need to be made for its future success."
