

Aussie Favourite Ayesah Rose signs on to American projects from Essential 11

LOS ANGELES, CA, USA, February 12, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ --

'Underbelly' actress Ayesah Rose has followed in the footsteps of Australian starlets before her and signed on for a slew of projects shooting in the United States, from renowned company Essential 11 in association with Atlantic Nomad.

The mixed-raced Australian, who has also made a memorable appearance on 'Home and Away', is expected to film 'Inmates' across 2020. The gripping film will be set in the not-too-distant future and feature Rose in the lead role.

Rose will play Jane F Cornell, a struggling university student who cons small American towns into buying what she claims to be the last of natural minerals and stones.

In addition, the talented multi-hyphenate, who won awards for her film 'Me Too', is attached to another raft of productions from Essential: 'Able Bodied' and 'The Line'.

“I am extremely excited to be filming projects with Essential Media, partnering with Atlantic Nomad in the U.S..”

Later this year, Ayesah will also be premiering her 'Me Too' follow-up, 'Shoulda', a project exploring modern-day human interaction and intimacy struggles.

Her reps expressed the following sentiment: “Rose has a
