After years on an executive level career track, the company Roanne worked for unexpectedly closed its doors, leaving her suddenly unemployed and understandably stressed. With a rejuvenated passion for life, Roanne felt compelled to share the knowledge, tools and resources that she learned from her own experience with a life coach. The only obvious choice for Roanne was to study and earn certifications in Life Coaching and NeuroLinguistic Programming (NLP) so she could help others in need.

Founding Goal Focused Results, LLC in 2017, Roanne has worked with many people to identify the root cause of limiting behaviors and release emotional blockers that hold people back from achieving their goals. Her client centered approach includes a plethora of techniques and modalities that provide fresh perspectives, insights and understanding.

Through word of mouth, Roanne has been able to forge a growing client base holding sessions primarily by phone. People are amazed at the incredible results Roanne brings forth through her sessional work. All of Roanne's fascinating programs can be found at www.goalfocusedresults.com.

"In our sessions, we take a step back and reassess your situation through a different lens. It's essential to let go of the emotion surrounding the issue... that emotional attachment. By releasing it, you can see that you can survive. Most importantly, people need to understand that it's okay to fail. You will learn from that experience, take that knowledge and you will win another day," exclaims Abe.
