CLEARWATER, FL, UNITED STATES, February 13, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Clearwater, FL – With tea cups in hand, 27 people gathered at the Clearwater Community Volunteers (CCV) Center for a tea party on February 8 to collect painting supplies in support of Girl Scout Troop 32827's mission to help others. Attendees donated several hundred dollars worth of painting supplies to the troop as they work to create unique paintings for a charitable art exhibit where all proceeds will benefit a Clearwater group home.

The Scouts' charitable art exhibit is part of their on-going work to improve the community around them, in keeping with one of the five ways that the Scouts helps the girls thrive – 'Identify and solve problems in the community.'

Michael Soltero, Manager of the CCV Center said, "Last month, Troop 32827 did a painting workshop in our center and we quickly realized they would need more supplies to accomplish their goal of fundraising for a group home, which is why we decided to put on the tea party for them."

The CCV Center hosts the tea parties about once a month to gather much needed supplies for a selected nonprofit in the Greater Tampa Bay Area. This time the tea party was Valentine's day-themed in recognition of the coming holiday.

Troop 32827 attended the tea party to give their thanks to the donors at the event. Nadia Sheikh, the troops adult leader, along with several scouts stood in front of the party and gave their heartfelt thanks for their contribution.

"The idea behind these events is that the nonprofits are bolstered in their effort to improve their community. We hope that the Girl Scouts are very happy with the turnout and that they are able to make a difference one stroke of the brush at a time!" said Gertie Perry, Volunteer for the CCV Center.
