

Tarps Now Expands Capacity Supporting Manufacture and Rapid On-Site Deliveries of Heavy Duty Tarps

Strong Demand for Heavy Duty Tarps and Coverings Prompts Continuing Investments in Technology

ST. JOSEPH, MICHIGAN, UNITED STATES, February 18, 2020

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Tarps Now® is pleased to announce improvements in the technology utilized to accept, process and fabricate orders of Heavy Duty Tarps sought by an ever increasing number industrial customers, as well as large scale EPC contractors utilizing large quantities of industrial grade tarps, coverings, concrete curing blankets, and other custom applications.. Custom Orders are processed electronically on an immediate basis after being received on the company's secure website.

Order information and product specifications are routed and processed on a same day basis, with operating efficiencies resulting in one of the industry's best records for delivering high quality, heavy duty tarps and coverings, both on time and on-schedule.

Complimenting the technologies used that helps customers rapidly establish the design specifications needed for custom made tarps and coverings, the company also supplements these needs with a wide range of stock sized industrial grade heavy duty tarps and industrial coverings in a variety of sizes, fabric grades, colors, weights and other specifications.

Tarps Now® tarps and covers are widely known to meet stringent specifications often required by the military, non-profit organizations, governmental agencies, municipalities, industrial concerns, small businesses and consumers specific to traditional canvas tarps. The company operates on the cutting edge of technology, with a management team having decades of experience in the field of industrial fabrics.
