

EDRM Announces Newest Affinity Partner Saya University and New Preserver Partner The CJK Group

MINNEAPOLIS, MINNESOTA, UNITED STATES, February 20, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Setting the global standards for e-discovery, the Electronic Discovery Reference Model (EDRM) is pleased to announce its newest affinity partner is Saya University, with a mission to pioneer and cultivate a global ecosystem of ethical cyber professionals committed to integrity, social justice and fairness. Preserver partner The CJK Group was founded to solve a single problem: assist in reviewing and navigating the unfamiliar terrain of non-English data that arises during the course of e-discovery and other information-intensive environments. Saya University was founded in 2019 and The CJK Group was founded in 2013 by Jonathan Hiroshi Rossi.

EDRM sets standards and best practices as well as provides tools and guides to improve electronic discovery, security, privacy and information governance. Legal professionals that leverage EDRM are well-equipped to properly handle the complexities that come with data identification all the way through production and preservation.

“The CJK Group pioneered bilingual attorney review workflows for Chinese, Japanese and Korean language datasets and expanded into media and conference summits on critical issues,” says Mary Mack, CEO and chief legal technologist at EDRM. “We learned about the global challenges of cyber awareness and training at CJK’s Tokyo Summit, and Saya University was formed not long after to address them.”

The EDRM’s international appeal and commitment to standards and awareness align with our global mission.”

EDRM, The CJK Group and Saya University will continue to collaborate to bring e-discovery and cyber professionals together at invitation-only global summits.

“The EDRM’s international appeal and commitment to standards and awareness align with our global mission,” said Jonathan Hiroshi Rossi, founder of The CJK Group and Saya University. “Both The CJK Group and Saya’s cybersecurity awareness platform solve a major gap in the market. In the e-discovery vertical, CJK was founded to address the challenges when navigating the risks of multilanguage data in the context of bilingual
