

NINA WEST TAKES US BACK TO SCHOOL TO TEACH US THE DRAG ALPHABET

COLUMBUS, OH, UNITED STATES, February 25, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Nina West, RuPaul's Drag Race Season 11 Miss Congeniality and Fan Favorite, is taking us back to school to learn "The Drag Alphabet". Nina firmly believes that children are our future and the fundamental task of learning the ABC's doesn't have to be a chore. From A is for "Absolutely" to Z is for "Zsa Zsa" children of all ages (yes, even the big kids too!) can have fun singing and dancing along all while learning some common phrases and words associated with Drag. The colorful video from Director Brad Hammer, features Nina alongside a group of children who dance and teach us the new words they have learned. The video also celebrates and highlights 2 very special young women - Daniela Maucere a deaf teen from Burbank, CA and Ivy Alona, an openly Transgender, deaf 9-year-old, who sign the alphabet and associated words to include the deaf and hard of hearing while also teaching all children how to sign.

"Drag isn't just a niche product anymore – Drag is for Everyone!" said Nina West. "I wanted to use my platform to teach the children of the world a new way to learn their ABC's in a fun way while also teaching them some fundamental words and phrases from Drag culture. I want everyone to be able to be included and to learn alongside each other, so I was so thrilled when Dani and Ivy agreed to come and help teach me, as well as the audience how to sign The Drag Alphabet. Both of these amazingly talented young women represent the future and are forging their own paths, while bringing intersectional activism to two very overlooked and underrepresented
