

HEA appointed advisor for Odin Energi's Latvian Licence farmdown

Odin Energi is looking for a partner(s) to join the licence ahead of drilling the E-17 prospect in 2021 which may contain up to 85mmbo

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, February 27, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Holt Energy Advisors Ltd ("HEA") have been appointed by Odin Energi Latvija ("Odin Energi") as farmdown advisor for their 2018-1 Licence in the Baltic Basin in Latvia.

The licence was awarded in January 2018 and since award the group have acquired and interpreted a new 3D seismic survey to mature the E-17 prospect ready for drilling in 2021.

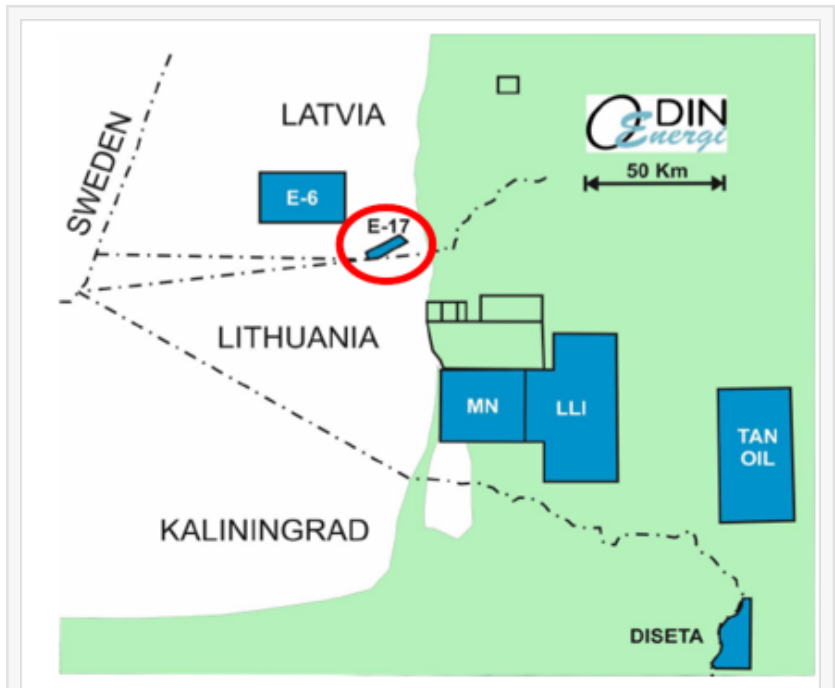

Odin Energi now seeks to bring in one or more partners to fund and deliver the forward work plan including a 2021 exploration well.

E-17 is a Caledonian aged closure located about 10km from the coastline in water depth of 25m. The prospect has reserves potential of 85 mmbo with the Cambrian reservoir target located at a depth of 1,370m SS.

The Baltic Sedimentary Basin covers an area of 250,000 km² and has a proven working petroleum system with excellent reservoir and a mature source rock.

Chris Starling, Managing Director of Holt Energy Advisors ("HEA") said: "The opportunity provides prospective buyers with a chance to access a significant volume of high value barrels at relatively modest cost within an EU country providing a low level of above ground risk and a ready local infrastructure and market. In the success case there are potential additional opportunities to access further resource in the region in partnership with the seller."
