Award-winning violinist and dancer Lindsey Stirling will hit the road this Summer in support of her ARTEMIS album. The 36-city tour kicks off on Thursday, June 25th in Minneapolis, MN and ends on August 14th in Toronto, ON. Stirling will bring an all new production to audiences throughout North America in iconic venues including Red Rocks in Denver, CO on July 8th and her inaugural appearance at New York's Radio City Music Hall on August 3rd, which will feature surprise special guests.

The ARTEMIS tour has traveled through Mexico and Europe and 2020 dates in South America and Australia have already been announced.

"After taking the Artemis tour all over the world, I can't wait to FINALLY bring it home to the states," Stirling said. "I never know how to describe my shows but they are theatrical, full of choreography, costumes, and a light show that would make a Dj feel quite at home. This Artemis tour is my biggest and boldest show yet and it's a joy to perform. I hope you love it."
