

IBM i2 ANALYST'S NOTEBOOK USERS SUMMIT RETURNS TO WASHINGTON, DC

BlueLight and IBM Security, present 2020 i2i Global Summit shares the latest investigative insights and strategies for the world's leading intelligence software

WAKE FOREST, NORTH CAROLINA, UNITED STATES, March 4, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- BlueLight LLC has announced that the 2020 Information to Intelligence Global Summit will be returning to the Washington, DC area for the first time since (2013). The summit, being held July 15–17 at the Hilton Alexandria Old Town in Alexandria, Virginia, is the official i2 users conference in partnership with IBM (NYSE: IBM) i2 and IBM Security.

The conference brings together experts and thought leaders from law enforcement, military, national security, banking, insurance, and commercial industries to share investigative insights and strategies about using i2—the world standard in intelligence software for more than 25 years, with more than 500,000 installs. Attendees will be able to take advantage of training on the latest versions of IBM i2 software and related products, plug-ins, and tools, as well as networking with partners, vendors, and users from around the world within the i2 ecosystem.

definitely be a must-attend for anyone who wants to see what i2 Analyst's Notebook can accomplish for law enforcement, federal/DoD, corporate security, education...”

Bruce Parkman
