

UNLSHD first top-level creative marketing agency to accept cryptocurrency only

Marks occasion with special discount.

NEW YORK, NY, USA, March 4, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- UNLSHD (Unleashed), the new-form full-service creative marketing agency has announced that it will become the first agency ONLY to accept cryptocurrency when offering services through its platform.

The policy starts immediately at the all-new agency created by advertising and communications veterans Tom Eslinger and Glen Cameron, and they're offering a 25% saving on their Token to any new client paying in crypto.

Former Saatchi Global Digital Creative Director Tom is upbeat about the new agency:

"Blockchain is having a huge impact on business, and there are very few quality creative agencies that 'get it'. And none that accept Crypto. We're the first."

UNLSHD accepts up to 120 cryptocurrencies as payment for services, in any combination.

This is what happens when advertising gets genuinely creative with its own problems. Finally.”

In exchange new clients will be given the UNLSHD alt/stable-coin KIBL.

KIBL is the pay-first to pay-less Token currently offering high quality disruption and delivery in the marketing space.

The move is designed to help and inspire startups, crypto-users and innovators across the digital spectrum to build radical new businesses with world-leading branding, strategy, and communication services. Things which many startups think they can't afford.

UNLSHD's co-founder Glen Cameron explains: "We're giving top-tier marketing services to the tech entrepreneurs, companies and talents of the future. Teams who worked for Lenovo, Sony, Google, T-Mobile, HP, P&G, adidas, Burton Snowboards, Levi's, Toyota and General Mills can now be hired by startups or smaller businesses."

Tom continues: “You either believe that crypto is an evolution that will result in new forms of trading and tracking value, or you don’t. If you don’t, you can stay with the ‘faster horses’ crowd. There are plenty of agencies you can pay to keep their charges & costs a secret. But with UNLSHD you get total transparency & control”.

For the final two months of their Initial Offer, UNLSHD will reward all new customers with a 25% discount on KIBL through April.
