

All-In-One Hoodie Flag for Sports Fans Launches on Kickstarter

LAS VEGAS, NEVADA, USA, March 10, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Though many sports fans enjoy waving flags to support their favorite team, carrying one around can be troublesome. Flags that can be seen from a meaningful distance are tough to move around in packed stadiums. They end up lost, wrinkled, and take up both hands for most of the game. The team behind Hoodie Flag is launching a Kickstarter campaign to crowdfund support for a practical solution to this problem.

This passionate team of designers, entrepreneurs, and sports fans are hoping to raise $8500 by March 31. Their product is the Hoodie Flag, the first patented wearable flag that allows sports fans to wear their country's flag around their shoulders with ease. Fully equipped with a cape/flag with finger loops at the end, fans can extend their arms to show off their flag, while still having their hands free when they need them. This ultra-lightweight design is made of 100% lightweight polyester and is easy to fold and carry, even during the most crowded games and festivals.

Their current range of designs includes flags of the USA, Canada, Australia, England, Brazil, Germany, Ireland, Japan, Mexico, Spain, and the UK. They also have camouflage, rainbow, and St Patrick's Day flags, ready to be worn by festival-goers everywhere. This range will be expanded if they meet their Kickstarter goal.

The company have laid out hundreds of designs already, made multiple prototypes, and have tested their product diligently. All that's left is to secure funding to build their inventory, and to support their licensing efforts to ensure Hoodie Flags can feature everyone's favorite teams from the NFL, NHL, MMA, NASCAR, and beyond.

There are several contribution tiers for supporters to choose from. For $5, supporters get a thank you email and regular updates regarding progress, new designs, and more through the Hoodie Flag team's Kickstarter insider list. For those interested in being among the first to have their own Hoodie Flag, they can opt for a $22 contribution for one, or $60 for three. Their current options include 11 country designs and 3 festival designs for supporters to choose from. There are two higher tiers, offering 25 custom Hoodie Flags for $619 or 100 for $1900. Shipping and delivery are scheduled for June 2020.

Contributing to making the Hoodie Flag a reality is a can't-miss opportunity for passionate sports fans who want to make supporting their team as fun and stress-free as possible.
