JEROME, IDAHO, USA, March 24, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Idaho Milk Products was awarded 1st place at the 33rd biennial World Championship Cheese Contest held at Monona Terrace Convention Center in Madison, Wisconsin on March 5, 2020.

The 1st place, Best of Class award was bestowed for their Milk Protein Concentrate (MPC). Products were judged on technical merits, with deductions for flavor and mouthfeel.

Idaho Milk Products' MPC is manufactured from farm-fresh, Grade A fluid milk using only a filtration process to concentrate the milk protein, while significantly reducing the lactose content. "We are proud of what we do and take our responsibility to provide a source of the best quality nutrition very seriously," said Daragh Maccabee, CEO of Idaho Milk Products. "We are again honored by this award and especially during this unique time for the world; it provides further encouragement for our team to continue doing their tireless and valuable work, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, every week of the year. Part of our purpose is to play a role in feeding a nation and the world in the most sustainable way possible. Now more than ever, we are motivated by the meaning of that purpose."

The biennial World Championship Cheese Contest, which began in 1981, is the nation's largest technical cheese, butter, dry dairy ingredients and yogurt competition. This year 3,667 entries were received from 26 nations.

"We did it again," said Dr. Chenchaiha Marella, Vice President of Research and Product Development, "The Best of Class achievement for our milk proteins in the world cheese championship contest is a product of our commitment to quality and consistency."
