Testicular Cancer Awareness Month (April) Is Approaching

WASHINGTON – April is Testicular Cancer Awareness Month. By highlighting Testicular Cancer Awareness Month, Men's Health Network hopes to stress the importance of health education and awareness. We believe that creating a discussion around testicular cancer, self-examinations, and treatment is a great way to bring awareness to your community and help men and boys identify testicular cancer at an early stage when it can best be treated.

The TesticularCancerAwarenessMonth.com website helps educate people about risk factors, warning signs, and treatment options for testicular cancer. Men's Health Network has created a number of resources that can be used to spread awareness during the month of April. These free downloadable resources include a social media toolkit, posters for print and social media, brochures, and more. There is also a store where awareness resources can be purchased.

Access these resources to spread awareness during Testicular Cancer Awareness Month at these locations:
