

Safe Harbor CPA Announces New Post on Identifying the Best San Francisco Business Accountant Amidst Tax Extensions

As both the IRS and FTB extend tax deadlines, Safe Harbor CPA announces a new post on finding the best CPA firm in a new environment.

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, USA, March 27, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Safe Harbor CPAs, a team of best-in-class accountants in San Francisco with deep expertise in business tax preparation, is proud to announce a new post on finding the best San Francisco best accountant for trying times. The firm is keeping its business clients abreast of tax changes during the current crisis.

"We're focused on tax preparation issues, and so we have posted an update to our website on tax issues during the crisis," explained Chun Wong, Managing Partner at Safe Harbor LLP. "That said, we strongly encourage our clients to take a long-term view as crises come and go, but taxes are forever. Obviously, first, people must stay safe and take all necessary health precautions. But, second, businesses need to plan on tax and accounting issues for the current year and beyond."

LOCALS LEARN THE BEST SAN FRANCISCO BUSINESS ACCOUNTANT FIRM PROVIDES A 'PERSONAL TOUCH' TO SERVICE

businesses of every size. Large international corporate offices can stand beside locally-owned shops. Residents might appreciate working for a large company, but prefer to patron smaller businesses during off-hours. The personal attention offered by a local proprietor could be a reason for the draw. A welcoming, attentive owner can greet visitors at the door and personally ensure a top-notch experience.

Local Bay Area business owners might understand the value of applying a 'personal touch' to customer service. An experienced CPA skilled in small business tax filings and audits could provide the special attention individual business owners require. During turbulent times, finding and working with a best-in-class accounting firm is a good strategy.
