

Fibank Donates 1,000 COVID-19 Test Kits

SOFIA, BULGARIA, March 27, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Fibank (First Investment Bank) will participate in a donation campaign to combat the spread of the COVID-19 coronavirus. Thanks to the donation made by the bank, a total of 1,000 people will be able to take the virus test for free. The kits are intended for people referred for testing by their GP.

The total number of COVID-19 test kits will be distributed among four health care facilities and laboratories: the FiHealth and Neoclinic medical centers, and the Bodimed and Ramus laboratories. The donation covers both the cost of purchasing the kits and of conducting the tests in home or clinical settings.

Fibank Head Office

The CEO of Fibank Mr. Nikola Bakalov commented that the bank's management monitors closely the development of the epidemiological situation and is prepared to extend the donation if necessary.

"As a socially responsible institution, Fibank is sensitive to the challenges that have arisen for Bulgarian people and businesses at this difficult time for all of us. Every day we are considering various options aimed at implementing the necessary measures to alleviate the financial stress of our customers and to ensure the safety of them and our employees. With the donation of these tests, we hope to help even more Bulgarians to be diagnosed and receive timely and successful treatment," added Mr. Bakalov.
