LOS ANGELES, CA, USA, March 28, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Chart-topping Reggae pioneers CHRISTAFARI have released a music video for their new single, "CHRISTAFARI's Pandemic (COVID-19 Quarantine Anthem)" from longtime label, Lion of Zion Entertainment. CHRISTAFARI

10 out of the band's 12 members recently became ill during the band's South America tour that ended in early March. A few members tested positive for strep throat but tests for Coronavirus were unavailable. Three weeks later, all members have fully recovered, just in time for a mandatory quarantine in their home state of California. Their current world tour has been postponed.

In the meantime stay quarantined, wash your hands, and please share this video — hope is the only thing that should be going viral right now!”

Mark Mohr

“Over the last decade, we’ve toured the world extensively,” says CHRISTAFARI founder and frontman Mark Mohr.

“We’ve been to 85 nations so far and typically perform in 25 to 30 countries per year so staying in one place is not our strong suit. Right now, we are supposed to be touring Israel but they were one of the first countries to close their border to all international travel.”

The melody for the new single popped into Mohr's head one afternoon as he thought about the overall fear and panic that this pandemic has caused. Little did he know that in just a few hours all the restaurants in Southern California would be closed for dining indefinitely.

“Two things that have lifted us up during this time are our trust in God, and hilarious memes about this toilet paper apocalypse,” says Mohr. “So we decided to do a video that highlighted these things. I wanted to create something that was both funny and offered others hope in desperate times.”

“We pray this video encourages people to not be consumed by fear and anxiety but to put their hope in the Lord and trust that doctors and scientists all around the world are feverishly working to find a solution," says Mohr. "In the meantime stay quarantined, wash your hands, and please share this video — hope is the only thing that should be going viral right now!"
