Box! announced today that it has successfully treated its first patient who tested positive for coronavirus / COVID-19. The patient came to DOCS Outside the BOX! after visiting Orlando and being sick for one week. He is in his mid-40s and initially came to the St. Petersburg clinic with flu like symptoms and a temperature of 103. The patient has recovered and is being monitored daily by DOCS! physicians.

The patients' coronavirus test was performed at the DOCS Outside the Box! office. After a positive diagnosis, the physicians implemented a proprietary protocol consisting of a mixture of traditional and holistic medical concepts. The protocol includes a daily treatment of pharmaceuticals, iv's, and Chinese herbs. After receiving the initial treatment, the patient's temperature returned to normal within 6 hours.

DOCS Outside the Box! will apply a similar, custom protocol to any patient that tests positive for coronavirus / COVID-19. Currently, the clinic is only seeing acute patients on site. However, they are continuing to follow up with their established patients via telemedicine.

Prior to the pandemic, DOCS Outside the Box! implemented multiple precautions in order to facilitate care for COVID-19 patients. The precautions included the creation of a second entrance for individuals suspected of infection, the requirement that patients wait in cars prior to being escorted in for treatment, the sanitization of treatment rooms after each encounter, and wearing of personal protective equipment.

"We are very happy that our patient recovered so quickly," said Lana Garner, DOM. "Our team has spent a lot of time to develop our protocol and we were confident that it could expedite recovery."
