PASADENA, CALIFORNIA, USA, April 10, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Law Offices of Pius Joseph has announced that it secured a \$2.7 million dollar verdict in Los Angeles Superior Court on January 30, 2020, on behalf of an aviation mechanic who suffered a mild traumatic brain injury and orthopedic injuries when he was struck by a loaded luggage tug. The tug was operated by an airport contractor employee who allegedly violated Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) and Los Angeles World Airport Authority (LAWA) rules by driving into the circle of safety and under the jet bridge in Terminal 2, gate 26 at LAX. Attorney Pius Joseph Esq. represented the injured man. He said that this case shows how important it is for employers to provide proper training to their employees in airport locations.

“It is imperative that employers be held accountable to provide their workers with adequate training to ensure a safe working environment for everyone involved,” Joseph said. “We are very glad we were able to represent and recover for this man so he could be compensated for the injuries and pain he has had to go through as a result of another party’s negligence.”
