CFOs2GO was established by Bob Weis in 1986. He observed that startups and small/medium businesses had some of the financial complexities and challenges of large firms having full-time CFOs but seldom had the resources for a full-time hire. CFOs2GO quickly attracted clients with needs across a broader set of corporate challenges than solely financial expertise. Building with an entrepreneurial culture and passion for varied challenges of a wide range of c-suite needs, it has built its practice areas to meet a full suite of executive specialties, including financial, accounting, information technology, revenue development, talent acquisition, human resources, and strategic planning, to serve startups and small- and medium-sized businesses with "short- and long-term, part-time" consulting expertise.

There are now partners specializing in 26 practice areas that include specific industries, situations, and specialized financial knowledge.

CFOs2GO is growing based on the dynamic needs of its clients. With its flexible model, the firm offers CFO advice, consulting, recruitment for full-time talent and in-house support services, such as bookkeeping for small firms. "Our aim is to meet the custom need of every client at any stage of their business. We deeply appreciate our clients for their working with us for more than three decades," said Robert Weis.
