

CBD Oil for Anxiety Is a Natural Alternative Without Many Adverse Effects

Patriot Supreme is educating Americans about the many uses of its THC-free CBD oil, and its effectiveness in treating disorders such as anxiety and depression.

MESA, ARIZONA, UNITED STATES, April 17, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Those unsuccessfully treating anxiety through traditionally prescribed medicines could find relief with CBD oil, an all-natural and safe alternative, derived from hemp. Patriot Supreme's CBD oil for anxiety can take effect in minutes, without producing feelings of sedation. Justin Elenburg, the founder of Patriot Supreme explains, "CBD oil relaxes by regenerating damaged neurons in the brain caused by an overload of stress. CBD oil may provide instant relief naturally, easing anxiety in just minutes."

THC-free CBD oil is the nonaddictive, noneuphorizing compound found in cannabis, shown in studies to potentially treat a range of disorders, such as PTSD, chronic pain, seizures, psychosis, and anxiety. It is understood that CBD oil can interact with the serotonin system, which is known to alleviate anxiety. Although it is still unclear how CBD oil binds with serotonin receptors, CBD oil is becoming increasingly popular in treating anxiety and depression.

Elenburg, a veteran himself, first started using CBD oil to treat his anxiety when other medicines had failed. He says, "The world isn't as simple as mainstream medicine makes out. Anxiety isn't always a black and white issue. Many people have benefited from alternative therapies. The stresses and strains of everyday life and the trauma of my experiences in the military led to me developing mental health problems. That changed however when I discovered the benefits of CBD."

Patriot Supreme offers a variety of THC-free CBD oil for anxiety products. For those who have anxiety swallowing capsules or suffer from dysphagia, the CBD oil tinctures can be taken easily under the tongue and the CBD gummies can be eaten. All Patriot Supreme products are made with top-quality, non-GMO hemp, grown in the USA.

Customers, veterans and non-veterans alike, are so far pleased with Patriot Supreme's range of products. One customer is particularly satisfied with the effectiveness of the CBD oil on their anxiety, "I've tried several other CBD products and none of them compare to Patriot Supreme. CBD has helped me with reducing anxiety and putting my mind to rest towards the end of the day. It also helps a lot when I find myself waking up sore in the morning."
