

Pulse Technology teams up with Journeyman Distillery to market much-needed hand sanitizer during COVID-19 outbreak

Pulse Technology will market the hand sanitizer through its Chesterton, IN office and online, pulsetechnology.com

CHESTERTON, INDIANA, US, April 21, 2020 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Pulse Technology (<http://pulsetechnology.com>), a technology company serving the IT, Managed Print Services and other needs of businesses throughout the Midwest and beyond, is now adding a much-needed product during these times of COVID-19: hand sanitizer.

Pulse Technology is partnering with Twin Oaks, MI distillery Journeyman Distillery to bring the much needed product to the Midwest market, and potentially beyond. Journeyman, a manufacturer of distilled spirits since the 1800s, is now producing a World Health Organization (WHO) approved hand sanitizer formulation, and Pulse Technology will market it through both its traditional delivery and online marketing channels.

The product is 80% ethyl alcohol with peroxide, glycerin and water. It is approved for hygienic hand antisepsis as well as pre-surgical hand preparation. Guidance from the state and federal government has made it possible to produce this sanitizer for the public. It is not a gel and does not come with a pump but it can be easily placed in a current pump style container.

Chip Miceli, Pulse Technology

Pulse Technology will market the Journeyman Hand Sanitizer in 1.75 liter containers and it is available to the general public. Interested purchasers can either call 800-837-1400 or visit <http://pulsetechnology.com>.

We are very pleased to partner with Journeyman, and we are glad to be able to offer a product when it is in so much demand.”

Chip Miceli, CEO, Pulse Technology

Chip Miceli, president of Pulse Technology, said, “We are very pleased to partner with Journeyman. The distillery has a great reputation throughout the Midwest. We also especially appreciate their commitment to helping with those affected by COVID-19, and we are glad to be able to offer a much-needed product when it is so much in demand.”
